

Inner West Voices acknowledges the Gadigal-Wangal peoples, the Traditional Owners of the country on which we meet, sing, perform and connect. We recognise the continuing connection of those Traditional Owners to lands, waters and communities, and pay our respect to Elders past and present.

Inner West Voices is a not-for-profit community choir for grown-ups singing on Gadigal-Wangal land in Newtown, Sydney. We sing contemporary, pop, gospel, traditional and folk music. The choir is non-auditioned and is open to singers of all abilities. To find out more, including how to join, visit innerwestvoices.com

Quart-Ed is a dynamic and versatile string quartet of music educators trained at the Sydney Conservatorium of Music. Since 2017, this innovative ensemble has shared music with lifelong learners all over NSW with self-developed interactive programs that inform, educate and entertain. Quart-Ed prioritises collaborating with living Australian composers, and is guided by the educational principle of “pluralism” to consciously reflect the diversity of audiences and music makers. At each engagement, Quart-Ed presents a smorgasbord of musical voices through popular music, folk tunes, Australian contemporary works as well as Western art music. As curious lifelong learners themselves, Quart-Ed are constantly looking to expand their repertoire, resources and relationships to reach more people through the joy and power of music.

Thank you to SGEGBS Darlinghurst and Head of Music David Gresham for generously allowing the use of their risers for today's concert.
